Dear Guest,

Over the past few months we have been fortunate to have visited wineries in Spain, Tuscany and France. Through our tastings, we could not resist adding too many reds having found some fantastic burgundies, clarets, Italians and Spaniards that we thought we had to add to give you the problem of deciding which to have with your lunch or dinner.

Of course, we will assist with advice where we can, but, cannot guarantee that some of it maybe biased dependent on who you ask!

We use a number of wine merchants and select the wines on quality rather than any preset notions of region or country. To help you experiment a little further we offer almost half of our wines by the glass. We use a cash mark up system making our more pricey wines better and better value

Because we favour towards smaller, individual growers, there may be slight differences in vintage from time to time. We apologize for any inconvenience caused.

We hope you enjoy your selection.
